To whom it may concern:

I am writing to recommend Rodrigo de Almeida Manão for any professional or academic opportunities in informatics engineering, information technologies, and related fields. I had the pleasure of teaching Rodrigo in two courses: 'Data Transformation and Analysis' and 'Feature Engineering for Machine Learning.'

From the outset, Rodrigo demonstrated a strong engagement with the courses and a proactive approach to learning. He maintained a consistently high level of dedication throughout his studies, reflecting both a disciplined nature and a sincere interest in the topics. Beyond his technical grasp, Rodrigo demonstrated a high degree of autonomy and a reliable commitment to the courses' assignments, eventually ranking among the top students. In the process, he also demonstrated strong coding skills and proficiency in several technologies.

Based on my interactions with him both in and out of the classroom, I am confident in recommending him for any opportunity within his field of expertise. His analytical mindset, combined with his collaborative spirit and dedication, makes him a truly valuable asset.

Yours sincerely,
